Q: Resolve a file in lib from different folder i have a lib (created by gradle) which contains a file. In the same lib folder we have another folder with a JAR file inside. The file i need to load is located in the JAR's folder. I can't use `getResources()` or `Class.getResource()` and the jar doesn't contain the file. I tried using: `Class.getResourceAsStream(fileName)` where `fileName` is the file in the library, but of course it throws a `FileNotFoundException`. How would i load the file in this case?

A: You can load the resource file using a `FileInputStream`: `FileInputStream fis = new FileInputStream(new File(jar.getPath(), fileName));` Note that for a resource that is `6a5afdab4c`
